PSA (for smokers): Oral Cancer Awareness Week – June 2009

AUDIO:

Everyone knows smoking can cause lung cancer. The Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene wants you to know that tobacco use causes a deadly disease -- oral cancer. Nine out of ten people who get oral cancer use tobacco products. So if you smoke or chew, ask your dental or medical provider for a yearly oral cancer exam. This painless, two-minute exam is the key to finding oral cancer early. So get checked!

There's never been a better time to open wide.
